

Berserk Airman Kills Three, Wounds 8 Others

MOTHER OF 5 KILLS HER BABY

ARCHIE BY A KNOCKOUT: Cal Thompson, local barber, is not taking through his hat when he picks Archie Moore to beat Marciano in their Sept. 20 fight at Yankee Stadium. Cal was selected by Archie as his manager back in 1936 when the rising young fighter was seeking a Negro to manage his affairs.

Thompson and Lee Bess, also well known here, had a gym in the 400 block, Indiana avenue where the heavy-weight challenger trained. Cal secured Hiawatha Gray, local young man also well-known in boxing circles, as Archie's trainer. Cal credits Gray with contributing invaluable aid in helping launch Archie on successful fight career.

L. L. Goodman, local millionaire, president of the National Hoosier Mills had 500 pictures of Archie made which were distributed throughout the country.

Archie gives due credit to Thompson and Gray in an article published in the Sept. 6th issue of Look magazine. A large group of local Archie Moore fans plan to attend the fight in New York.

Crazed Airman Kills Fellows In Shooting Spree

BROADSTAIRS, England—A stark drama of tragic climax unfolded here on Wednesday of this week as a crazed U.S. airman went on a shooting spree. He killed three persons and wounded six others across the area of a U.S. Air Base and nearby seaside beach crowded with bathers.

He was identified as Napoleon Green, Chicago, a supplyroom clerk at the air base. He was trapped finally and shot to death in manhunt led by the commanding officer of the Manston Air Base near this seaside resort.

The Air Force reported that Airman Green, assigned to the 46th Air Base Group, apparently had gone berserk. He armed himself with a .30-caliber army carbine and a .45-caliber automatic pistol before starting on the shooting spree across the air base at Manston.

Reports are that he walked across the street from his supply room to the base accounting office, "where he killed a master sergeant and wounded an English Air Ministry employee."

"He left the building and started toward the main gate entrance. Enroute he killed an RAF Airman another man and injured a woman who were entering the base in an automobile. These two were employees of the American Express facility at the base."

"Continuing toward the main gate, he further wounded two air policemen, an airman and a non-commissioned officer."

UPON SHOOTING his way out of the main gate, he leaped into a car and sped across the Kentish meadows to the Broadstairs Beach. Reaching the sea he leaped from his car and ran down a narrow ravine opening into the small beach of sand rock.

English and U.S. Air Force police are searching for him.

QUITE A QUESTION: Will Gloria Lockerman, Baltimore junior high school girl be advised to accept the $16,000 she won in the TV $64,000 Question program Tuesday night, or try for the next prize of $32,000, is what a lot of people are wondering this week. You can find out what the answer will be next Tuesday. Word is going around that she'll try for the $32 G's.

Glad Gloria Grabs Big Dough In Spelling Quiz

NEW YORK—Exuding amazing confidence, 12-year-old Gloria Lockerman, spelling wizard of Baltimore, spelled her way into $16,000 on the $64,000 Question television, Tuesday night as millions across the nation watched with baited breath.

Gloria spelled the following sentence with the ease of an expert marksman hitting the side of a barn: "The belligerent astigmatic anthropologist annihilated innumerable chrysanthemums."

Before spelling it she inquired of Master of Ceremonies Hal March, "Do you want the last word in the singular or plural?"

Her grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Key, wife of a Methodist minister, Rev. T. V. Key, will decide whether the child will keep the $16,000 or try next Tuesday for $32,000 halfway to the final prize.

Should she lose, she will get $4,000 as a scholarship instead of the regular consolation prize of an expensive automobile.

All her winnings will be put into a trust fund, where the money will be kept until she needs it for her education or reaches legal age.

Another sensational winner last Tuesday was Capt. Richard S. McCutchen, an expert on food and cooking who advanced to the $8,000 mark.

Before the show Governor Theodore McKelvin wired Gloria:

"We're all watching you and are certain you will pass the $16,000 barrier as easily as you completed the earlier hurdles."

Jackson Out Shriners Elect New Potentate

DETROIT (ANP)—Booker T. Alexander of Detroit, was elected imperial potentate of the Shriners last week by a 480-30 vote over William O. Greene also of Detroit, at the meeting of the Imperial Council here.

The possibility of a bitter struggle for control of the organization was eliminated when Imperial Potentate Raymond E. Jackson refused to offer his name in nomination.

Jackson had been at odds with the Grand Masters' Council, which resented his use of power he held through support of rank and file Masons. It has been predicted that the battle for power would be a three-way affair.

Charles E. Stewart, Albany, N.Y., who reportedly had the support of Jackson, withdrew from the race, leaving the field to Alexander and Greene.

FRIENDS of Jackson had urged him to step down and give the reins to Alexander, thus avoiding the possibility of a wider split in the organization. Sources close to Greene said he would withdraw his candidacy if Jackson withdrew.

Alexander, who was deputy imperial potentate before election to the higher post, pledged a continuation of the "high program of

Whites To Join Attacks High School Faculty

All Indianapolis public high schools now have mixed teaching staffs, Superintendent Herman L. Shabler announced this week as the list of transfers was made public.

School officials estimate that Negro people represent about 15 per cent of the teaching and supervisory staff in city schools.

Attacks high school will have two white teachers for the first time in the 28 years of its history.

Integration plans for local public schools are moving smoothly and with a fine spirit on the part of school officials as envisioned by the 1949 Indiana school integration law.

William "Bill" Garrett of IHSAA and Indiana University basketball fame has been appointed to a teaching post at the Harry E. Wood high school. He will teach physical education and assist in coaching athletics.

THE LIST of new appointees and transfers include names of twenty Negro teachers. Among these Maenell Newsome, formerly at School 56, has been transferred to Broad Ripple high school. She will teach languages and English in her new position.

Rose Ella King, formerly a teacher in the public school system of Gary and recently a member of the staff at School 87 has been transferred to George Washington high school. She will teach home economics in her new position. She taught at Plymouth, England, as an exchange teacher before resigning from the Gary school system.

Charles DeBow, World War II Air Force officer, has been transferred from Howe high school to School 29, where he will teach social studies.

Frances Stewart, widely-known chairman of the FAC Negro History Week Radio Program, has been transferred from School 26 to Emmerich Manual Training high school, where she will teach English.

OTHER NEW APPOINTEES include Emma Hayes to School 5; Leonard Glover to School 29; Emagee Washington, art, School 41; Madeline Sweetman, School 41; Betty Cowherd, School 41, and Marion Bland, home economics, School 41.

Transfers include Preston Roney from School 36 to School 60; Ma-nona Martin from School 37 to School 43; William Weaver from School 6 to School 41, assistant.

Mother Stabs Baby To Death; Man Killed In Craps Game Row

BY JIM CUMMINGS

A 32-year old mother of 10 killed her two-months-old baby last Saturday afternoon by plunging a 10-inch kitchen knife through its abdomen and a Westside man shot another man to death with a shotgun after a dice game argument Saturday night as Naptown bathed in its bloodiest weekend of recent weeks.

Mrs. Gladys Tinsley, 807 1/2 Indiana, ordered held without bond on murder charges in connection with the stabbing death of her daughter, Linda, was taken to the psychiatric ward of General hospital for a mental examination Tuesday. Appearing in Municipal Court 4, before Special Judge William Fahey, Monday, her case was continued to Sept. 9.

Sam Cole, 53, 1039 Colton, charged with murder in the shot gun slaying of Emmett L. Shirley, 31, 864 Indiana, was ordered held in Jail without bond and his case was continued to Thursday of this week. He appeared before Special Judge Fahey Monday.

Shirley was bleeding from shotgun wounds in the chest and stomach when officers arrived at 1037 Colton, the home of William and Lillian Meredith. He was rushed to General hospital in an ambulance and died there a short time after his arrival.

Sam Cole was arrested in his home, the east half of the "double." He complained he had been shot in the mouth and was taken to General hospital for treatment of a wound in the lower lip which had broken his dentures.

In admitting the crime, Mrs. Tinsley allegedly told the officers her daughter "bothered" her.

Since it was her's, she reportedly stated, she felt she had the right to "kill the baby or do anything with it I saw fit."

"She didn't feel she had done anything wrong," Schubert told The Recorder. "She didn't cry about it, or anything. She was strangely silent."

The baby died in General hospital about 6 p. m. Saturday, an hour after its grandmother, Mrs. Idella Joyner, 70, and a neighbor, Mrs. Angela Johnson, 44, took it to the hospital's receiving ward. Mrs. Joyner lived with Mrs. Tinsley and Mrs. Johnson lives at 805 1/2 Indiana.

Det. Sgts. Randolph Schubert and Myron Partlow, homicide investigators assigned to the case, asked for the mental examination, stating it appeared "obvious" that Mrs. Tinsley is mentally unsound.

The crack detective team said the young mother confessed she murdered the infant with the knife after a futile attempt with ammonia the day before.

"She simply had no use for the child," Schubert stated in giving his impression as to the reason behind the woman's vicious act.

THE INFANT, according to General Hospital records, was born on August 1, 1954.

More Than 6000 Awarded College Degrees In Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—More than 6,000 Negroes were graduated from institutions of higher learning in the U. S. during the academic year, 1954-55, according to the current issue of The Crisis, official organ of the NAACP.

Pointing out that its information is not complete, The Crisis gives a tentative figure of 6,802 Negro graduates.

The fact that few racially integrated colleges and universities keep records regarding the race of their students accounts in large part for the incomplete statistics on Negroes who were graduated this past academic year, The Crisis notes.

The figure (6,802) represents 6,370 bachelor degrees and 292 master degrees.

Doctorates were awarded to a number of Negroes during the same academic year. These degrees were in the fields of philosophy, dental surgery, medicine, science, laws and fine arts, as well as honorary degrees.

AT THE STATE FAIR: The popular Nat "King" Cole, will be featured attraction at this year's Indiana State Fair which opens Wednesday Aug. 31 and continues through Sept. 9. Nat will be seen in four dazzling Coliseum productions, Sept. 1 thru Sept. 4 and will share the spotlight with Frankie Laine, Tennessee Ernie Ford and Russ Morgan orchestra.

City Tops In Baby Contest

Results of the Carnation Hometown Healthiest Baby contest, held last spring and conducted in cooperation with The Recorder justified the faith of the sponsors in the enterprise and pride of local residents.

Robert Logsdon, district sales manager, said Indianapolis was among the top ten cities of its size in standpoint of the number of babies entered in the contest.

Mr. Logsdon said the objective of the contest conducted simultaneously in 45 cities throughout the nation was to encourage people to be more child-conscious, maintain balanced diets for children and help doctors and hospitals and other health agencies in fostering highest health standards for children.

TRUE!

The average adult eats his weight in food every six to eight weeks.

Diseases transmitted by rats have killed more people than all wars of history.

Many people take better care of their automobiles than they do of their bodies. They will stop regularly at a garage to have a man who knows about cars check the oil in the motor, the air in the tires, the brakes, etc. But they won't bother to go to a doctor for a medical check up. If you have the money you can always buy a new car. But you can never get a new body.

EYEGLASSES

The invention of eyeglasses is sometimes attributed to Benjamin Franklin, but this is in error. Actually, eyeglasses were being used long before Franklin's time. There is disagreement about when they were first introduced, some crediting them to the Chinese and others to the Romans. However, Franklin did make an important contribution by introducing bifocal eyeglasses, useful to older people who formerly had to use one pair for distant viewing and another pair for reading.

SATISFACTION

The greatest satisfaction to be gained from the practice of pharmacy is the realization that one is making an important contribution to the health and well being of many people.

It is a wonderful feeling to compound a prescription for a sick child and know that one's efforts will help restore the child to health. When the physician writes a prescription for a patient who is in pain, the pharmacist has the satisfaction of knowing that he is helping to relieve someone's suffering. Frequently the pharmacist knows that the prescriptions he dispenses are vital in helping to keep a patient alive.

These are truly great responsibilities and we undertake them with all seriousness. Pharmacy is of vital importance to health and we do our utmost to practice our profession in such a manner as to merit the confidence of the physicians and patients whom we serve.

Gulf Products Winning Favor With Motorists

Products of the Gulf Refining Company, gasoline, oils, lubricants and greases, are winning wider popularity by the month among local motorists on the basis of their quality. This is the opinion of operators of the Fitzpatrick and Jones Gulf Service Station located at 2901 N. Capitol, corner of 29th St. and Capitol Ave. The owners, Chas. Fitzpatrick and Launell Jones, have been in business since 1946.

Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that they decided to become associated with the Gulf organization because they believe that Gulf products are the best on the market.

THEY SAY the station pumped approximately 20,000 gallons of gasoline monthly during the last quarter.

They recommend Gulf Pride H-D motor oil as the best on the market, among lubricants for your new or old car.

They also carry a full line of Gulf tires and batteries.

Mr. Fitzpatrick lives at 4105 Byram Ave. He and his wife, Mrs. Mary Fitzpatrick, are the parents of two children.

Mr. Jones lives at 2828 N. Illinois St. He and his wife, Mrs. Alice Jones, are the parents of three children.

HARRIS BRIDGES is the owner of the twenty-fifth Street Gulf Service Station, another popular outlet of Gulf products. Mr. Bridges says he believes Gulf products are superior to anything in their line. He also carries a full line of Gulf tires and batteries.

Mr. Bridges is married. He and his wife, Mrs. Molly Bridges, are the parents of seven children.

There's no need to worry about stalling in hot-weather traffic; no need to worry about balky hot-engine starting! Just fill up at your Gulf station with New Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX—the gasoline that's made with evaporation control to prevent vapor-lock. And always protect your engine with New Gulfpride H.D. Select, the motor oil that controls carbon.

See what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf takes out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery—to bring you new clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX.

NO GASOLINE, no matter how high the octane, will let your engine deliver full power performance—mile after mile—unless it burns clean. That's why it pays to always use new NO-NOX. Gulf NO-NOX is the clean-burning fuel that gives you full working octane day in, day out. In addition, you get...

- more complete engine-protection
- extra gas mileage in short-trip, stop-and-go driving
- freedom from vapor-lock, engine stumbling and stalling
- no knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance, always use Gulf's

Sam Cole Jr., in a signed statement, said his father said "he was going to kill everybody over there," after he had shot Shirley.

SAM COLE was going to "kill everybody."

eral hospital officials, appeared to have been beaten badly about the face, arms and chest and was bleeding profusely from the stab wound.

Mrs. Joyner, who had taken the child to Dr. Francis Hummons Friday for treatment of a respiratory ailment, said she did not witness the stabbing.

She told the officers she was in another room at the time. She heard the baby scream, she said, but thought it only a normal outcry and did not investigate.

When she did go into the room and found the infant bleeding, she rushed it to the hospital.

MRS. TINSLEY at first would not talk about the baby to Schubert and Parlow.

Finally breaking down, she said she had made up my mind yesterday to kill the baby.

About noon the day of the stabbing, she reportedly stated, she stuck the point of the long-bladed knife into the baby's body below its abdomen and forced it through the tiny body, all the way up to the knife's handle.

She said she had tried to get rid of the baby without killing it. She gave it to a sister recently but her sister returned it to her after a week.

Schubert said only five of Mrs. Tinsley's children are now living. All these live in Parsons, Tenn., with their father, John B. Tinsley, whom Mrs. Tinsley reported "left" over a year ago.

Contacted this week, Mr. Tinsley was non committal as to whether or not he would come to his wife's aid. He refused to have anything to do with funeral or burial arrangements for the slain infant.

Young Doctor, Wife Introduced Here

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Meeting new people is usually a delightful experience, and when they're as nice as Dr. and Mrs. Alfonso D. Holliday the pleasure is multiplied. The Hollidays were introduced to a small group of the younger set Saturday night at an informal buffet dinner party by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel F. Artis.

Here from Gary while he interned at General Hospital, they shared the spotlight with their new daughter, Kathy Ann, born June 25.

Dr. Holliday, a member of Omega Psi Phi fraternity, graduated from the Indiana University Medical School last June, while Mrs. Holliday is a graduate of Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., and has topped that academic training off with a year of dress designing at the Nvart Academy, Detroit.

Active Episcopalians, they are attending St. Philip's Church while here.

Enjoying the dinner (which, believe me, was wonderfully prepared) were Messrs. and Mesdames James Anderson, Reginald A. DuValle and Rufus Wharton, Mrs. Gabra Sadik Gashaw, the Misses Martha Cox, Harriette Wilson and Harriette Blackburn and James M. Bryant.

After stuffing myself with turkey there, out to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Briggs, to hit the kitchen just in time to sample some fabulous steak. Members of the local chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity gathered there Saturday night for a session with the grand polemar, C. R. Wilson, of Chicago.

A whole article about his visit appears elsewhere, so no need to go into it here.

Just winding up a week's visit with the Briggs were his sister, Mrs. Christina Lewis, and niece, Mrs. Louise Lee, of Washington, D. C. They were, quite charming.

Another very nice affair over the weekend was the party Friday at which Mr. and Mrs. Delmore Hawkins honored Miss Beulah Ford of Chicago, here attending the convention of the National Alliance of Postal Employees. She was a guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Hazel.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Daigle and Will D. Williams, also of Chicago; Messrs. and Mesdames Buford Hazel, Carl Richardson, Charles D. Walker, Richard D. Hampton, Wallace Root and Albert Ferguson, Jr., and Mrs. Jenkins Bryant.

Rev. D. E. Skelton was host at dinner during the preceding weekend to local ministers of the Lexington Conference of the Methodist

A LITTLE EARLY: It was a little early for the celebration of Laurence Elliott Falwell's birthday (is August 18) while visiting his youngsters had fun just the same. Laurence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Falwell, St. Louis, had the pre-occasion party (his birthday is August 18, while visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Batles, 2815 Boulevard place. Enjoying the party were Donald Curtis Anderson, Freeman Foley, John Gentry, Jr.; Lee Martin, Jr.; Paul Parks, Jr., Boston; Clem Paul Randolph, Tony Stovall, Isaac and Matthew Watson and Roger Woodard.

Betty Taft's Letter

My Dear Richard:

Now that vacation periods are mostly over and the humidity lets us feel human, we thought it would be nice to let you in on a few weekend happenings, the most important being the annual summer tea sponsored by the Northside Spiritual Singers. We were invited as patron of the president, Mrs. Lottie McNary.

But before getting to that, we'd like to mention the week's visit of Arthur C. Earl of Chicago, with his sisters, Mrs. Virginia Bowles and Miss Bessie Earl, at the former's apartment. Virginia and Mrs. Costella McCray had visited Arthur in Chicago the week before, and he accompanied them here.

Haven't had much of a chance to hear about the Chicago visit, but we understand many social courtesies were extended the Hoosier guests.

Arthur, slightly indisposed with one of those summer sniffles, etc., enjoyed a relaxed week. However, as always, a few of his closest friends were on hand to pose-wow about old times, the hot weather and what-have-you. Yours truly, also indisposed with the sniffles, was not able to enjoy the usual now-wow, but we were happy to have him again in Indianapolis.

He returned to Chicago on Thursday morning.

Last Saturday evening here at home, one of my many mothers, Mrs. Sadie E. Lyles, was hostess to a lovely pitch-in lawn supper for members of the Seven Seals club and their guests. The organization is a group of missionary women and women ministers, part of the Lifelines singing group.

The back lawn is beautiful for such an occasion, and we certainly enjoyed singing fellowship songs, talking missionary work, etc., while feasting on plenty of fried chicken, greens, tuna salad, baked beans, iced tea and luscious sweet watermelon.

Evangelist Hattie Clark is president, and Mother Lyles is business manager and secretary. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Louis McNary, Mesdames Annabelle Bowman, Samantha Oakley and son, Duward Stone of the Jericho Travelers, Maggie Davis and Ella Alexander.

The delightful Saturday evening at home ended up with our singing Spirituals and Gospel songs to the piano accompaniment of Mr. Stone.

On Sunday afternoon at Metropolitan Baptist Church, of which Rev. William F. Sweatts is pastor, we enjoyed fellowship services with his congregation augmented by Rev. Judge I. Saunders, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, and his Gospel Chorus.

Particularly impressed were we with the sermon, "The Maid Arose and Returned Home" by our pastor and the singing of the little juniors

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

Beautiful weather is anticipated eagerly by members and friends of the Colonial Matrons Social and Literary club for the weekend. The popular group plans to entertain a large number of persons with a garden party Saturday at the home of Mrs. Maggie Mae Clark, 2134 Highland place. The public is invited.

Sixteen members of the FAC board of directors were present for the regular board meeting last Monday night.

Mrs. Frances Howard told of the progress being made in the planning of "The Toast of the Town" show, and we were pleased to learn of the large number of tables already reserved for the FAC Tea to be held October 21 at Northwestern Community Center.

The FAC president, Starling W. James, and Mrs. Lula Hodges, chairman of the board, explained the aim of officers to encourage affiliated groups to use the club home's facilities for coming social affairs. The home is presently being redecorated inside and is really showing up beautifully.

The FAC has been asked to help residents affected by the present streetcar service in the vicinity of 21st St. from Boulevard place to Northwestern avenue. Mr. James has secured an appointment with M. Smith of the streetcar company for Monday morning.

Mrs. Clo Woolridge told the board that a traffic light is sorely needed at Northwestern avenue and 29th street. That is a dangerous corner to cross—I know, especially if you are on the east side trying to get across to catch a streetcar.

The press and publicity committee met at the home of Mr. James last Wednesday night. The "AC Yearbook goes to the printer" this weekend. If there is anything you want in or changed, you'd better contact Mr. James, WA. 6-2876, or your reporter, WA. 5-1118, immediately.

And don't forget to call Mr. James or Mrs. Rebecca Smith, WA. 6-5141, to make reservations for the bus trip to Cincinnati on Sunday, September 11, for the Dodgers and Red Legs double-header.

Alpha ALPHA from TRAD.

IN HAWAII: Mrs. Jeanette Greene and Miss Norma Woods, basileus of Alpha Mu Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa sorority, relaxed in Hawaii on a "post-convention tour" following the AKA boulev in San Francisco. Bedecked with leis, they had just landed when snapped by the photographer.

Dr. Roscoe R. Polin Re-Elected To Head National Musicians

Dr. Roscoe R. Polin, prominent local musician and public school teacher, was re-elected president of the National Association of Negro Musicians during its 36th annual sessions in Chicago last week.

Another local musician, Mrs. Teresa Saunders, was elected third vice-president, while Mrs. Sadie Hardiman of this city was cited for her outstanding contribution to the advancement of musical culture. David Hardiman was elected second vice-president of the youth division.

Dr. Polin and his mother, Mrs. Edna Polin, led a large delegation from Indianapolis which included many visitors as well as official representatives.

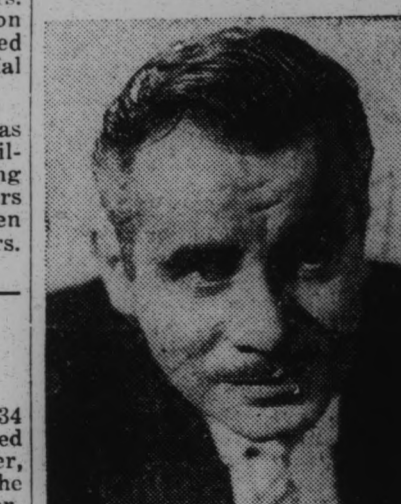

The Dett Choral club sent as delegates Josiah Person and Wilbert Johnson, while representing the Indianapolis Music Promoters were the president, Mrs. Helen Laster, Mrs. Eva Turner and Mrs. Saunders.

Clara Mae Gaston To Be Sept. Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Gaston, 734 West 24th street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Clara Mae, to Sidney Franklin. The double-ring ceremony will be performed Sunday morning, September 4, at First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, by the pastor, Rev. F. F. Young.

Mrs. Mattie McKinney will give a shower for Miss Gaston at her home, 523 Myrtis street, next Wednesday night.

Mrs. Louise Beane, Elyria, O., is house guest of Mrs. Frankie Dawson this week while a delegate at the convention of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World at Christ Temple.

IN FINAL PLAY: William Tregoe co-stars with Carol Stone, popular Broadway actress, in the final work of the summer season "The Fourposter," one of Broadway's top dramatic hits, at the Avondale Playhouse, 5801 Millersville road, for six nights beginning Tuesday, August 30.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

Rev. Less Galbreath of Hopkinsville, Ky., uncle of the Ole Scribe, spoke on "The Nature of Acceptable Worship" last Sunday at Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, of which Rev. O. D. Williams is pastor, using as text "God is spirit; and they that worship Him, must worship Him in spirit and in truth."

"Worship," he said, "should be conducted according to the Word of God. Worship requires due preparation and right feeling, followed by reflection and prayer."

Listening to my mother's youngest brother, it seemed only yesterday that we were playing in the fields of old Kentucky, trying to see which one could do the better stunts with the horses and out-running the bulls.

Many old Eastside friends gathered to hear Rev. Galbreath, among them Mesdames Emma Thomas Garfield, Dora Dillard, Sallie Brown, Mittie Thomas, Lovie Mae Bacon, E. D. Meriweather and Sallie Postum and Messrs. Booker E. Taylor, Robert Wallace Brown and Ed Postum.

Rev. Galbreath was among the 1955 graduates of the American Baptist Theological Seminary, Nashville, and was winner of the senior class award for having made the great improvement in preaching technique during the four years of study. The prize was given by W. A. Reed.

Now pastoring at Little Vine Baptist Church, Hopkinsville, Rev. Galbreath had pastored in Hopkinsville and other Kentucky cities for a number of years.

Now a word to the youth: If you desire to reach the goal, don't stop studying. Rev. Galbreath's chances were very small, but he showed an interest, and proper people got behind him and sent him to school. After farming by day and studying by night, he proved himself worthy of help and made good. He expects to move Eastward soon.

"Regardless of long-suffering and trouble, we must wait on God for our salvation," said Rev. F. Benjamin Davis in preaching the funeral of Mrs. Minnie Victor, a member of New Bethel Baptist Church and one whom all knew to be long-suffering.

Other ministers participating were Revs. Charles Starnes, C. C. Cornell, A. Devashur and Robert Saunders. Selections came from Mrs. Julia Means and Wallace Wolfolk, while the church clerk, Mrs. Frances Boglin, read the obituary.

Ministers' wives serving as active pallbearers were Mesdames J. O. Clark, Mathew B. Downey, B. L. Harris, A. J. Strong, R. W. Vance and E. T. Johnson, while honorary pallbearers were Mesdames Bertha Shirley, Haldee Wilson, Maria Nance, Betty Marks, Fessie Hall and Kathryn Austin. The King and King Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Victor was the wife of Rev. L. R. Victor, 2736 Manlove Avenue.

Members of Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church observed Women's Day last Sunday, with Mrs. Elzora Rozeman of Puritan Baptist Church as morning speaker and Mrs. Ollie J. Fleming as speaker in the afternoon. My apology is extended to Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Fox for being unable to attend.

The Galilee Baptist Church Trio will render a full program for the convention committee of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church on Sunday, with Mrs. Rose Nichols, a real worker around the church, as chairman.

Mrs. Nichols says they are making all efforts to send their pastor, Rev. J. Glover, to the national convention.

In the mailbag is an invitation to Corinthian Baptist Church to pay homage Sunday afternoon, September 4, to Mrs. Lillie Bell McKay for her fifty years of service in the church and Sunday school.

Mrs. McKay is a fine worker in the state and national conventions and plays a great part in the missionary and nurses' groups.

Rev. Edward Bookert, superintendent of the Corinthian Sunday school, looks forward to seeing all Mrs. McKay's friends Sunday afternoon, September 4, at 3. Mrs. V. Benedict will assist in the arrangements.

Speaking of paving homage, my church, New Bethel Baptist, is having no stone unturned to celebrate the first anniversary of the pastor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Davis, August 25-28.

Members of the church are very proud of them and look forward to showing them so in a very big way. The church clerk, Mrs. Frances Boglin, is general chairman.

Sunday will also mark the annual celebration of the Business and Professional Women at Charity Hall from 4 to 7. The Ole Scribe has been asked to serve as master of ceremonies, and several singing groups are expected, among them the New Era Baptist Church Young Women, Shiloh Senior Choir, Millard Western Singers, Miss Catherine Davis, Mrs. Patonna Blue, Jennings Johnson, Mrs. Margaret Lytle and Fletcher Andrews.

Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis, national chairman of business women, is expected, along with Mrs. Anna Washington, state and national officer, and many other outstanding women.

Mrs. Amelia Wolfolk is chairman. Seemingly, the Eastside churches were all thinking together in appreciation services for the pastor and wives. St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church will observe the 16th anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Hughes, while True

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Well, lads and lassies, how's kicks? Here we are, back again to see if we can uncover some of those fabulous sneaks being pulled by some of you fabulous people.

Now, good people, that it's just about time for the Halls of Greater Learning once more to swing open their doors, it's going to be harder to get away with those terrible plays. So be careful, 'cause I'll be watchin'!

Well, what say we get down to the haps of the day? ... It seems as though there is one less playboy in the confines of Ole Nap. None other than the fabulous Ronald Messer is real gone for a Kentucky babe by the name of Pauline Dye. Carry on, my good man.

Mr. Donald "Play Boy" Coe pulled out for the Air Force last week. He tells us that he would like to hear from some of his friends. We misplaced his address, but it will be in next week, so all you girls can pick up your pens and drop him a line.

We haven't been hearing too much about those Northside playboys, Casanova Alfonso Long, Jimmy Whitlock, Charles "Mr. Oldsmobile" Buford and Howard "Miss Baker" Bowles. Come on now, boys, let's let the happenings happen.

Say, Fred Bowles, why is it you make so many trips out on Arsenal? Could it be that little babe by the name of Jeannie? ... There is an old proverb, "A word to the wise is sufficient." Well, Edsel McChristian, considering your age, we keep it a secret. But why don't you give these young girls a break? Try some of your own age for a while. You might even like it!

Another Man Shot Down In Mississippi

BROOKHAVEN, Miss. (AP)—The reign of terror in Mississippi, which caused the still unsolved murder of a minister several months ago, has brought the death of another Negro.

Lamar Smith, 63, was shot to death on the courthouse square here Saturday surrounded by throngs of people, none of whom admitted seeing or hearing anything.

Smith had recently been accused of voting a large number of absentee ballots in Mississippi's gubernatorial election. He died with a large number of election leaflets in his hand.

Sheriff Robert Case is conducting an investigation, but reports that if anybody saw the murder, "they won't talk." Smith was shot with a .38 calibre pistol under the right arm.

CME Missionary Group Has Big Year

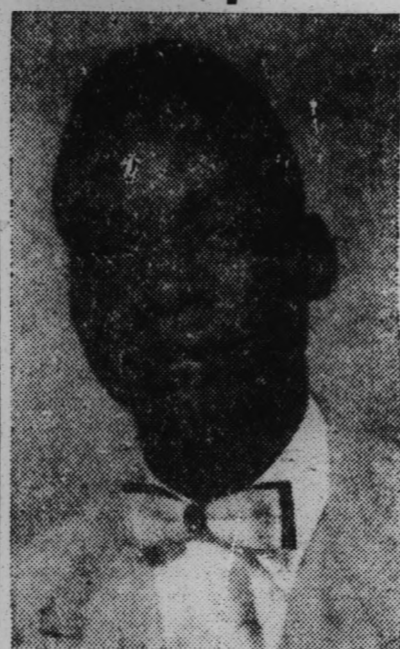

ST. LOUIS.—The Women's Missionary Council of the CME Church that recently closed its quadrennial session here, reported that more than $45,000 was raised during the past annual conference year for central church purposes.

Out-going treasurer, Mrs. M. I. Washington, influential lay leader of Louisiana, was vociferously applauded for her report.

She reported that the actual cash balance was more than $12,000 when the convention opened.

She assertedly voiced the sentiments of the women delegates when she declared: We shall expect greater things for the CME Church in the days that lie ahead. We have done a great year's work, but we'll do better in the years that lie ahead."

Liberian Youth Grateful for Scholarship

ROGER JUTY NILE

The pastor and members of Bethel AME Church have recently received a rich reward for a good deed done.

Sometime ago the church's Stewardess Board and Missionary Society, with the hearty approval of the pastor, Rev. Jonathan A. Dames, sent a check for $50 for two scholarships for worthy students of the Monrovia College & Industrial Training School, Monrovia, Liberia, W. Africa.

One of the two students given the scholarships has sent the pastor and the departments directly concerned a warm, touching expression of sincere thanks.

The grateful recipient, Roger T. Juty Nile, 20 years old, wrote:

"I extend to you my warmest 'Thank You' for your spontaneous effort and keen interest in the growth of our educational standard, which you have voluntarily exhibited by an enclosure of a check in the sum of $50 for two one-year scholarships on behalf of students who have actually felt the need of it.

"Such a generous gift really means a hundred per cent to one who needs it.

"We are indebted to Bishop Hatcher for the vast work done here in West Africa toward the educational program of Liberia.

"I am 20 years old and in the 10th grade in high school. May the Lord guide, protect and direct you in the daily undertakings while laboring in His name and honor and glory."

Some People Say --In Our Town

By W. ALEXANDER CHAMBERS

Frank Hendon is just another fellow in the streets of your home city. He has been going up and down the streets of Indianapolis from time to time over a period of more than three decades. This writer has known him more or less over a period of more than three decades. This writer has known him more or less intimately through the years.

Whenever we think of Mr. Hendon, we think of one writer's interpretation of the word, "philosophy."

"Philosophy is nothing more or less than common sense and inescapable common truths on man's concern and relations with his own kind and the infinite expanses of the universe."

Mr. Hendon was born in an immediate atmosphere of music and musicians. Many of us have encountered people of European origin who lay just claim to similar backgrounds. Somehow, or unduly we think of them as being different. Most likely they are reserved or unassuming in manner or characteristics. Comes a time when you know them in a true sense, and in your mind, they stand out like a sore finger might stand out on the hand of "John Henry" or "Paul Bunyan."

Thus through the years we have been agreeably disturbed or troubled by Mr. Hendon, the musician, arranger and composer and world traveler in hands with famous circus of other days. He is eternally adventurous in spirit and conclusively independent; yet if he had lived as a contemporary of the great masters of the fine arts he would have been patronized by some great noble or patrician of his surroundings. But as things now stand a creator of folk-music, composer and philosopher is unheralded in the passing through.

Leolin "Leo" M. Troutman recently was paid a kind of tribute by friends and Mrs. Troutman in recognition of his having served 35 years in the Indianapolis Police Department. Inspector Troutman had forgotten about the anniversary, his wife and friends stated following the tribute paid him in his home.

Elsewhere few old-timers would associate Inspector Troutman with 35 years of police work, but it might prove a hard task to find a dozen people any place in the community who would impugn his temperamental ability or spirit in action as a law enforcement officer. Other than staid citizens, law violators with long criminal records say Inspector Troutman has always been a "square shooter."

Somewhat or sometimes over a period of 35 years we have been charged with writing newspaper copy in the community, involving or concerning people in all walks of life. In searching our memory and in contact with all kinds of people in the street we have never encountered as many as three persons with a logical grievance against Inspector Troutman, evolved out of his action when in the line of duty. We salute him on the first 35, hoping the next 35 afford fair promises to no end.

James O. Burr, GOP nominee for mayor, recently got together with U. S. Senator Homer E. Capehart and Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley in the city. The three personalities of political news today, and most likely tomorrow, pledged an all-out effort on the national, state, and local level in electing 104 Republican mayors in Indiana cities this fall. Nothing is reported on personal "fence building."

Sen. Capehart, Lt. Gov. Handley, a potential candidate for governor, and Mr. Burr attended $100-a-plate luncheon, "preview." The luncheon will be held here Sept. 17, a GOP fund-raising affair.

nomics class, making layettes for shipment to Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex. Carver school is also finishing a project of making lamps and tables which will be sent to Ardmore Air Force Base. (Newspress Photo.)

Rev. C. D. Hughes Addresses Lafayette Vesper Services

LAFAYETTE — Rev. Carl D. Hughes, pastor of Second Baptist Church, delivered a timely message to an overflow crowd on memorial island at Columbia Park last Sunday as the church was in charge of the weekly vesper services held at the park.

Speaking in an "ecumenical" setting, Rev. Hughes used as his subject the theme of the second assembly of the World Council of Churches held last August at Evanston, Ill.

Proclaiming Jesus as "The Light of the World," Rev. Hughes stated that "the Big Four forgot to invite the Number One Power to the Geneva Conference. Jesus, an uninvited guest, stood outside the locked conference room, moving around among the guards, soldiers, secret service agents and newspaper reporters, waiting for an invitation to enter the conference room."

The senior choir of Second Baptist Church provided music for the special occasion, rendering several Spirituals.

A special solo was rendered by Miss Gwendolyn Evans, popular senior at Jefferson high school and president of the young people's choir of Second Baptist.

FOR FIVE DOLLARS — FIVE LIVES. A friend's concern is plainly written on the face of Jimmy Washington, playmate of Louis Torres of New York, who plunged five stories down the dumbwaiter of a tenement recently. A second-floor tenant, hearing the boy's screams, lowered Jimmy down on a rope to effect the dramatic rescue of Torres. Miraculously enough, the boy survived the fall and is recovering in a hospital. Welcome, P. A. W. Convention Delegates

Two national conventions "in a row" give Indianapolis a chance to show real Hoosier hospitality and to underscore the phrase "no mean city" as our exclusive property, thanks to the eloquence of then Mayor Charles Bookwalter at the dedication of the present City Hall in July, 1909.

Last week it was the convention of the National Alliance of Postal Employees; this week we welcome delegates here for the 45th annual sessions of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World. They converged upon the city by the hundreds via every medium of transportation and were welcomed by their hundreds of "Sister and Brother Saints of the Church" with true Christian enthusiasm.

As the birthplace of PAW, Indianapolis occupies a position comparable to Rome for Roman Catholics, Canterbury for Anglicans, London for Methodists or Boston for the Christian Scientists. Christ Temple, meeting-place of the convention, is certainly the "Mother Church" to the international body.

The church members, living Christianity as well as preaching it, exert an influence for the good which in many instances far transcends their weight numerically. We are happy to know they are here, and we pray that the city will feel the influence of the church body concentrated here for a week at the place of its founding.

School Integration Moving Along Here

While the battle of school integration in the South rages on all sides with fury, it is being accomplished here with admirable smoothness and lack of incident. It is, in fact, being accomplished with such quietness and efficiency that many people know little or nothing about it. It is being accepted as a matter of course, which is as it should be.

To most people, for instance, it is just a matter of mild interest that two white teachers are being placed on the Attucks high school faculty, while five other high schools are getting their first Negro teachers. No storm of controversy is brewing, and the school board itself is not making much of a fuss over it.

Oddly enough, we think this comparative lack of interest is a healthy sign. When full integration is here, no more of an eyebrow will be raised over the hiring of a Negro where a white worked before, or vice versa, than the hiring of a redhead to take a position formerly held by a brunette. Which, again, is as it should be.

Indianapolis is, of course, fortunate in having such a school superintendent as Herman L. Shabler. Not a soapbox orator or flag-waver, Dr. Shabler nevertheless continues to exhibit that positive type of leadership which knows where it is going and which consequently demands confident follow-up.

While the eager integrationists on the one hand might demand of him the impracticable, the segregationists, in many cases backed up by money and "power," no doubt pillory him for the progressive stand he has already shown. Persons "on the inside" indicate that, if the school superintendent had his own way, full integration would already be here.

It is the sincere hope of The Recorder that this fair-minded young educator remain here long enough to finish the job of complete integration. He has made a laudable start.

"Dusky" Foreigners, Identify Yourselves

One of these days, dark-hued visitors to this country will realize the extreme importance of identifying themselves as foreigners. Otherwise, how can they escape being mistaken—and consequently sometimes mistreated—as Negroes?

India's ambassador to this country, Gaganvihari Lal-lubhai Mehta, and his secretary, B. A. Rajagopalan, probably know it now. On Monday they were ushered into a "special" dining room at the Houston, Tex., airport from the public dining room because the restaurant supervisor "thought they were Negroes."

The supervisor, Mrs. Mary Alley, quoted Texas law to back up her moving of the distinguished visitors, en route to Mexico City from Washington by plane. Texas, quite expectedly, has a law forbidding the serving of Negroes and white people in the same room. Houston's contract with the federal government, however, bans discrimination at the international airport where the incident occurred.

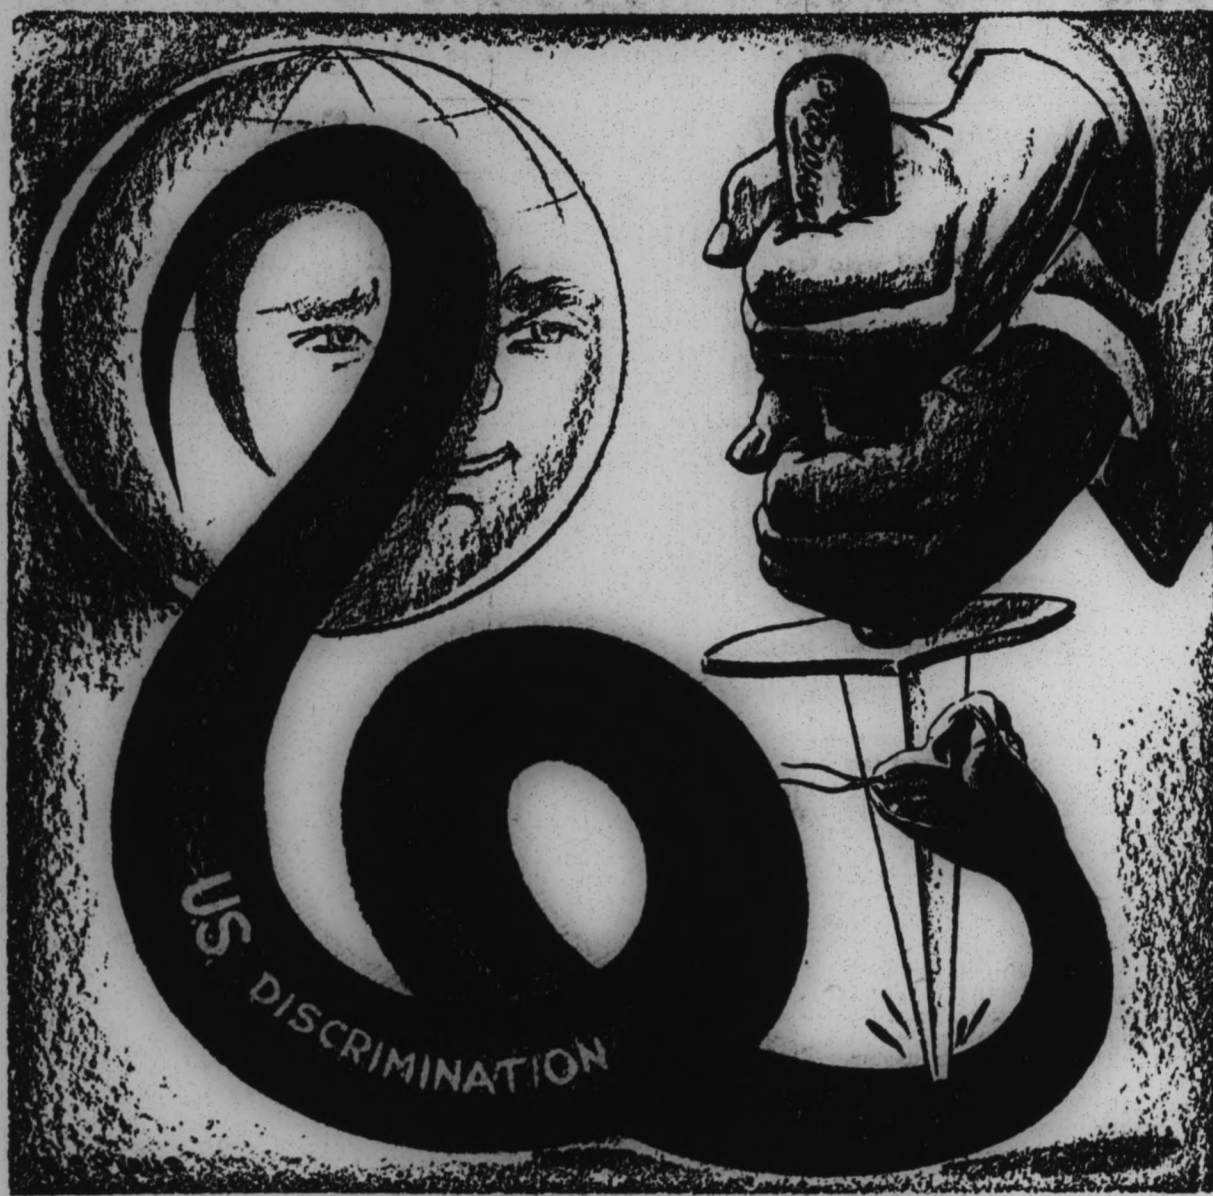

According to the AP news report, "The ambassador and his secretary looked at each other, smiled and complied. They made no protest and followed Mrs. Alley into a small dining room back of the cashier's cage."

They could have learned something from a fellow countryman who visited Indianapolis a few years back. It seems the Indian, stopping at the downtown YMCA, after having been refused service at a nearby restaurant, realized that all he had to do was return to his room and don a colorful turban, then return to the restaurant. It worked.

And the state department, concerned over possible international repercussions, might learn from the Indianapolis NAACP. That august body, in "Naptown Non-sense" some time ago, hit upon the idea of arm bands to identify one class of people from another, when they couldn't otherwise be discerned as those to be discriminated against.

Arm bands, ceremoniously presented to overly-tanned visitors to this country upon arrival, could then identify them to doubting waitresses, bus driver, bartenders, theater ushers, etc.

Complications would arise, of course, if we admitted—as any historian, anthropologist, ethnologist or any other informed person knows—that "black" blood flows through the veins of Indians and most other Asians, so we will join the general United States conspiracy and not bring it up, out of deference to the ignorance of Southerners—especially Texans.

What Would You Have Done?

Reporting incidents such as the following may be of questionable value to many who are in a position to a large extent to avoid similar situations.

It also is to be doubted that recording unpleasant happenings can contribute much if anything to the more cordial race relations which more and more people appear to be seeking. But explosive race clashes do take place constantly.

They are important, sometimes resulting in individual or community tragedy. They ought not to be. But they are and deserve thoughtful consideration on the part of all who prefer peace and order to friction and chaos.

Fortunately most people show a commendable restraint under trying circumstances, apparently considering an offender too insignificant for notice and being determined to remain lady-like or gentlemanly, letting whoever will be an ignorant boor unless he goes too far.

RIGHTLY OR WRONGLY. (as you will), increasing numbers of people cannot or will not take wanton insults lying down. To that group belongs a very dark young woman of New York City.

Quite recently as she was getting aboard a Riverside bus a rather old white woman pushed her aside, stepping in.

Integration Vs. Negro Teachers

To the Editor:

When the board of education of Indiana decides to integrate teachers, will that hurt our teachers? Will it leave a lot of teachers jobless?

Today it depends on the parents. They should take more interest in the Parent-Teachers associations. It also depends on the community and the state, that has broad control over affairs that mark our lives.

People should understand the law and keep in mind that the courts administer justice. Citizens, making decision on the basis of personal experience, cooperate in elections choosing office-holders.

However, one should remember that justice comes from God, and one need not quarrel with his neighbor about justice, for God's law will find a way to clean the path of love and cooperation inherent in the American way of life.

Education is the highest degree of the universe. To children in integrated schools are doing their part, "working together." The Negro has not realized that parents are the foundation of the teachers, for without help of parents, teachers are lost.

Today the Negro needs integration more than ever. I find many need economic integration. Some teachers are against integration because they fear loss of their jobs. In the long run, Indiana education will not be fair to the Negro teachers.

Alfred Corbitt.

front of her and snarled: "This bus is not for niggers. Take the next one."

Without answering, the colored woman got on the Riverside bus, sitting immediately next to the ill-mannered offender. An important-looking white man who saw the white woman's acts and heard her provocative words sat opposite the woman scowling at the colored woman, who wondered why he was so openly peeved at her.

But a pleased expression replaced his hostile look when the colored woman began to jab her enemy in the stomach and side with her elbow.

HE SMILINGLY BOWED his approval. The jabbing began at 57th street and was kept up until the end of the line at 163rd street.

The performance so pleased the white man that he went miles beyond his getting-off place.

Up to this point neither woman had said anything since entering the bus. But when the white woman started to leave, the colored woman brought her foot down on her opponent's foot hard and held it there. The mischief maker being hurt and unable to move, dropped back in her seat, claiming:

"I didn't mean any harm." "Don't try to tell me that," was the quiet reply. "Where did you come from and how long have you been up here?"

This is a civilized city."

THE POOR white woman asked:

"What are you going to do with me, since you won't let me leave the bus? I shall be lost when we reach the end of the line."

"If you were not so old I would slap your face. Doubtless you are sick. There is a hospital at 163rd street. You ought to go there and have your head examined. In your present condition you are not fit to be among normal people."

"When you go back South, stay there. Serious harm will come to you if you remain here and try to continue your ignorant acts and words. Any human being is respected as such here. You apparently are not aware that slavery ended in the U.S.A. ninety year ago."

AFTER leaving the bus the sympathetic white man spoke to the colored woman. He said: "Congratulations, Miss. I should like to buy you a dish of ice cream."

"I appreciate your interest," she answered, "but I do not want anything to eat, thank you."

The man went on: "I frowned at you because at first I thought you without the intelligence or pluck to resent the woman's contemptuous behavior. You handled her perfectly."

"I hope she learned a lesson."

Our Foreign Policy Pays Off

Our foreign policy as enunciated and begun by Truman, is paying off. Once it was greatly to be feared that the communism of Russia would run a similar course to the nazism of Germany and that in the end, the world would find itself doomed either to accept in full communism or face World War III.

Hitler adopted the Roman concept of divide and rule that Britain has used so successfully for centuries. Where as Britain used the concept politically, Hitler adapted the concept militarily and with tremendous success.

Country by country Hitler took over with his nazism and was bidding for the whole of Europe until England called his hand. Abetted by the United States, England rose up in its might, and together, these two countries led the successful revolt against Hitler and Hitlerism.

Compelled to ally themselves with Russia in the fight against Hitlerism, they found themselves in curious company once the war was over. As soon as Russia was even partly reformed, Stalin took a leaf from Hitler's Nazi book, and straightaway set about subduing Europe.

AND SO SUCCESSFUL were his stratagems that he set about the conquest of the great continent of Asia. With China subdued, it once appeared that communism would sweep Asia and the world. But to the credit of the United States it must be said that its President Harry Truman found the formula for stopping Stalin and his communism.

It looked at first like a policy of buying friends who would not stay bought; but it was the only approach to the impending problem of stopping Stalinism. It consisted of giving economic aid in turn for military aid in stopping the onrushing tide of communism.

And so the war in Korea was precipitated and it proved the stopping place for the military spread of communism.

We would be remiss in our observation unless we emphasized that the military halt of communism does not mean its ideological termination. Our success thus far in stemming the tide of communism only means that we have time to regroup our forces for a final ideological stand against communism.

THE WESTERN WORLD badly needed respite from communistic pressures so as to have time for planning to meet Russia on ideological grounds as well as one the field of battle.

The United States approach, through economic aid to hungry peoples of the world, has been eminently justified.

The world has had a breathing spell and the more the world breathes freedom and thinks the matter through, the more the world is disinclined to accept communism and more inclined to accept democracy.

It is quite possible and probable that the respite gained through our foreign policy may prove the determinant of war or peace. There are so many evidences that Russia really and truly wants to "talk turkey" in this matter of international relations.

Peaceful co-existence may not prove to be an empty phrase. Instead it may have a meaning for history that coming generations will appreciate keenly and laud sincerely.

The current respite in the hot and cold wars may have the ultimate meaning of a just and enduring peace. Although the nations are girding for atomic warfare, they do not have to fight such war for there is a more excellent way and the respite that has come through our foreign policy may help us to find that way.

IRRESPECTIVE of what she means, Russia is inclined of late to talk with sense and there are so many evidences that Russia is just about as fearful of atom warfare as we and the rest of the world are. If Russia has the common sense we think she has, the fear of the atom bomb is mutual.

This mutual fear of atom warfare may predispose the nations to peace; and it all stems from our foreign policy that gave the respite in which we could think things over, and the more we thought, and the more the Russians thought, we dismissed the notion of a war that might end in the destruction of mankind from the face of the earth.

In other words the United States decision to fight in Korea might have been the show of force needed to restrain the Russians in their ambitions to take the world for communism; just as Hitler had planned to take it for Hitlerism.

STATESMANSHIP in these United States is not a total loss! Our foreign policy inaugurated by Harry Truman is paying off grandly.

Public Needs Education To Smooth Path Of Integration

The greatest obstacle to smooth transition to desegregation of the nation's schools comes from the miseducation and ignorance of the public rather than the fulminations and activities of southern political demagogues and citizens councils.

The ignorance and miseducation which have been developed since the Civil War picture the Negro as an ignorant and childlike brute with whom no self-respecting civilized person would want to associate.

So strongly drawn have been both the myth and the stereotypes that many so-called educated whites even with the facts before them choose to ignore the facts or to misinterpret them to fit into the picture of the Negro which they have gotten at their mother's knees.

With the present level of schooling and the present development of the media of mass education in America, scholars and scientists know that to debunk the present misconceptions regarding the Negro can be done with a great deal more ease than it was a few years ago to sell the idea of vaccination against small pox or the idea of free public education for all American children.

But the owners or the controllers of the media of mass communication either have a vested interest in segregation or they share the common ignorance of the Negro with the rest of the nation. WHATEVER the reason, the fact is that the very agencies which could most effectively be used to dispel the myth and destroy the stereotypes are the very ones which have either created them or kept them alive.

For instance, rare indeed is the American daily newspaper which does not suppress or distort news about Negroes when that news is of a non-criminal nature and blow up crime news especially when the Negro is alleged to have committed a crime against a white person.

By reading the daily press day after day the average American is likely to get the impression that Negroes are all criminals by nature. Indianapolis daily newspapers are a notable exception.

The Negro is presented on the stage, on the screen, over the radio and on television as a comical, illiterate and servile buffon who is tolerated with more or less good humor by his kindly master or mistress.

THE WHOLE BUSINESS amounts to conditioning the response of the white man to every Negro knows that almost all that one can gain from these sources is a series of stereotypes none of which is complimentary to the Negro nor consonant with the facts.

First of all there has grown up a myth that the Negro has had no past, worthy of historical mention either in America or in his ancestral Africa. Historians have known better but they have been more faithful to white supremacy than to unbiased scholarship.

In the second place the stereotypes which have been developed since the Civil War picture the Negro as an ignorant and childlike brute with whom no self-respecting civilized person would want to associate.

So strongly drawn have been both the myth and the stereotypes that many so-called educated whites even with the facts before them choose to ignore the facts or to misinterpret them to fit into the picture of the Negro which they have gotten at their mother's knees.

The Negro is presented on the stage, on the screen, over the radio and on television as a comical, illiterate and servile buffon who is tolerated with more or less good humor by his kindly master or mistress.

THE WHOLE BUSINESS amounts to conditioning the response of the white man to the Negro in much the same manner as the scientist conditions laboratory animals to behave in ways foreign to their nature.

Most school officials and some school board members know that the public can be educated to accept gracefully the new democratization of education but few do anything about it.

In only a few communities have the school officials developed a program for preparing either the pupils, the teaching staff or the parents for integration of the schools.

In most non-southern communities where segregation has been a custom, the school have gone about their business of desegregating the schools as though they were embarking upon an experiment which they could abandon at will.

Except for a little gerrymandering here and there, however, pupil integration has communities but teachers' integration is quite another matter. Most school boards and superintendents have gingerly gone against the old taboo that Negroes and whites are never to be put into non-physical competition.

THEY HAVE PLACED Negro teachers generally in schools whose pupil ratio leaned toward Negroes and by granting transfers to both teachers and pupils (white) have in a very short time converted these schools into practically all Negro schools.

That pattern has been followed in Washington, D.C., Chicago, Illinois and Indianapolis, Indiana.

Strict districting on a purely geographical basis and the assignment of teachers to schools without regard to the racial composition of the student bodies would prevent this wholesale displacement of school teaching and pupil personnel and speed the overall transition to an integrated system.

A program to educate the teachers, the pupils and the parents on the basic facts of humanity and the contributions of minorities particularly the Negro would help greatly in integrating in spirit as well as in fact.

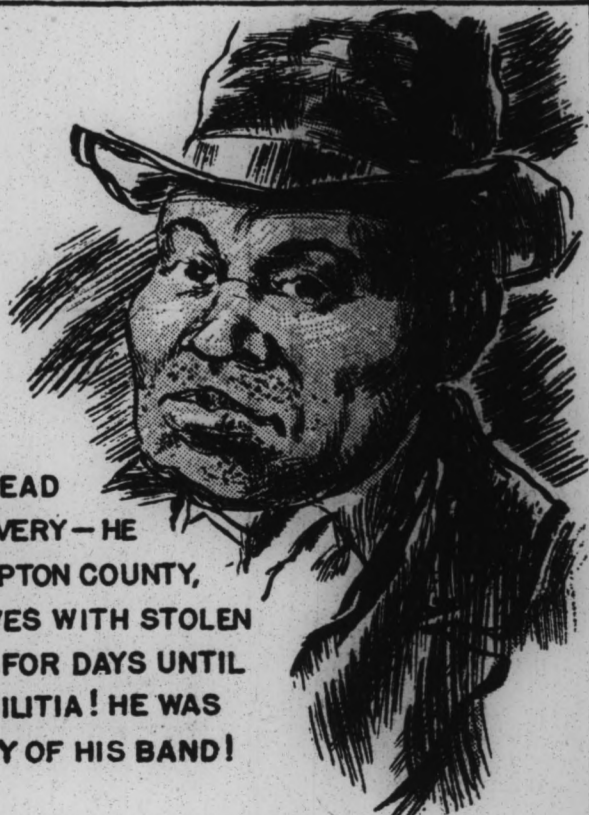

THE LOCAL PRESS, radio and television stations and the churches and civic organizations could give valuable assistance to this program of education.

And Negro organizations should check the public libraries to see if it they contain books and periodicals by and about Negroes.

OF COURSE the above suggestions are aimed only at school systems whose boards are trying to obey at least the letter of the law in desegregating the schools.

For other cases a lawyer could offer better advice. In any case integration must come.

Minoso's "Comeback" Sparks Sox In Stretch

Minnie Minoso, hampered all season long by this and that and finally crippled by a skull-fracturing bean ball, exploded from his tightly-wound tenseness recently and as a result is responsible for the White Sox failure to fade in the late phases of the white-hot American League pennant race.

It took Minnie a long while to get started but his blazing finish may be just what the Sox need to win their first flag since 1919.

Suddenly catching fire two weeks ago, Minoso has been belting the ball at a .411 clip since Aug. 7, during which time the Sox have won 10 of 13 games.

HE HAS STRUNG TOGETHER A STREAK OF 13 GAMES in which he has hit safely. During the streak he has hit at a .414 pace, bringing the previously sad average up to .280.

The 32-year-old Minoso enjoyed his best day of the campaign Sunday when he collected six hits in nine tries and drove in three runs as the Chicago White Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 2-0 and 8-2. The triumphs enabled the Sox to sweep

Archie Does "Moore" Jabbing At Marciano

NEW YORK—Champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Archie Moore Monday signed the contracts for their Sept. 20 world heavyweight championship fight—but not without the usual fanfare which featured more Moore than anything else.

Archie, digging verbally at the usually mild-mannered champ for several weeks, let go a real broadside in plain view of the big shots of the fight game and the press—and too Rocky's face.

"Rocky," he said, "It's been a long time and it should be a great fight and make us a lot of money."

Then, peering directly into Marciano's eyes, he said with extreme calm confidence:

"Rocky, I do expect to win your title."

Rocky, caught off balance, momentarily looked like the punch was going to have kayo effects but after the pause turned to the challenger and shot back:

"Archie, you sure have created a lot of interest in this fight. I'll be ready on September 20 for the fight of my life."

MOORE'S WELL-PLACED POKE AT MARCIANO was said by observers to be the first real prediction of victory by a principle ever heard at such a gathering.

Marciano had said earlier that Moore talks too much. And he predicted he was going to give the challenger the beating of his life.

Archie late last week described Marciano as a "punching bag." He said the champion would be no harder to hit than the bag in his gym.

The contract signing ceremony was held up quite a while as the managers of the two fighters fought out terms of a special contract with Moore's corner finally inking the dotted on a private paper the New York Boxing Commission refused to sanction.

Jack Dempsey, Barney Ross Referee Here

Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion of the world and former World Welterweight Champion Barney Ross will share the ring as referees September 13 when the big fight show featuring Virgil Akins and Harold "Baby Face" Jones comes off at Victory Field.

Gene San Soucie, president of the Indiana Conference of Teamsters Unions, sponsors of the fight program, made the announcement Tuesday.

San Soucie said the signing of the former "Manassa Mauler" and the ever-popular Ross "should pull a heavyweight that we will spare no expense to make this the best fight program Indianapolis has had."

The headliner of the card brings together two high-ranking boys, of whom could possibly become the welterweight champion.

AKIN, FROM ST. LOUIS, IS RANKED FIFTH in the country, and Jones, Detroit, is just a notch below him.

The St. Louis belter is assured a fight with fourth-ranked Vince Martinez which he can get by Jones. So he's shooting for the summit and he'll be shooting the works.

Five additional bouts, including Tommy Bain and Joe Tuvel, both of Indianapolis. Bain recently signed with the Basilio stable. Both boys are promising and Tuvel, a heavyweight, has an impressive string of kayos.

Match-maker Al Farb announced Wednesday morning that he had finally completed arrangements for a bout between Tommy Bain and popular Leon Rozana.

The promising lightweights will appear in an eight-round special bout in the semi-windup position.

Indianapolis Clowns Bring Baseball, Comedy Back To Victory Field Tuesday Night

Goose Tatum and Marques Haynes Start Net Team

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (ANP)—Abe Saperstein, fresh from a summer tour of Europe, North Africa and the Near East with the famed Harlem Globetrotters, learned last week that he will have to get along without the services of "Goose" Tatum, his top box office attraction.

Tatum announced here that he would "never play with the Harlem Globetrotters again."

Instead, he and Marques Haynes, another Trotter alumnus, have formed a basketball team called the Harlem Magicians. The team has already booked 160 games for the current season.

The loss of Tatum, who has been listed as missing in action for the past two months, and Haynes, who quit the team in 1953, represented the two biggest losses to the Trotters to date.

BESIDE COMBINING CLOWNING WITH BASKETBALL WIZARDRY, Tatum has set single-game individual scoring records in Chicago Stadium (55 points) and in San Francisco's Cow Palace (64 points).

Haynes was considered the top dribbler in basketball. Tatum was the last of the original Harlem Globetrotters. Only Babe Pressly, also the initial team, now remains with the funsters. He is serving as a coach.

Besides Tatum and Haynes on the original squad were Sonnow Boswell, Ted Strong, Pressly, Inman Jackson and Bennie Price.

Because the Indianapolis Clowns put on such a good show and played such good baseball against the New York Black Yankees when they were here July 20, Naptown fans took a fancy to them—or maybe renewed their fancy.

And because so many of the fans let Victory Field management know they thought the Clowns everything from "best attraction" to the "greatest baseball team" to show up here this year, the Clowns will be brought back to Naptown.

The famous show-baseball troupe will meet the Black Yankees at Victory Field Tuesday night. Game time 8 p. m.

THE CLOWNS' FUN SHOW, which features the greatest array of funmakers ever assembled on any baseball field, starts shortly before the game and continues its riotous act until the last ball is thrown.

Ed Hamman, former clown with the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, will share the comedy spotlight with King Tut, Spec Bebob and "Nature Boy" Jim Williams.

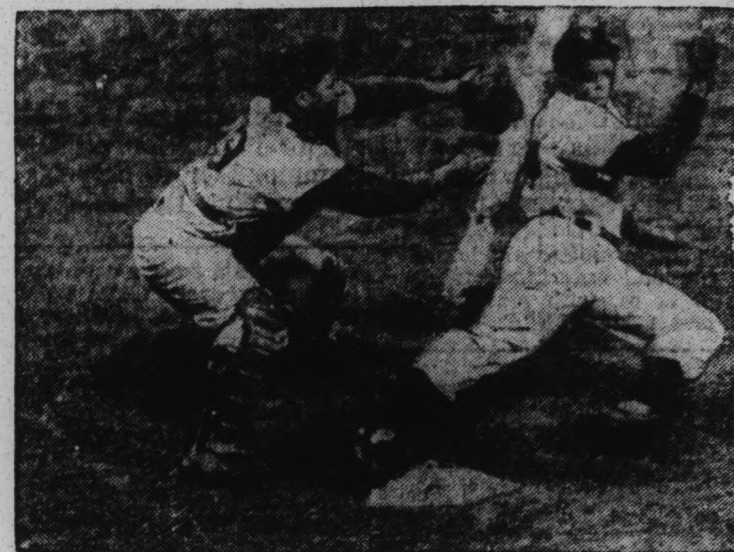

HAMMAN, WHO HAS MADE PERSONAL APPEARANCE tours throughout the country, does unbelievable tricks and has a standing offer of $1,000 to any player in organized ball who can equal his amazing backhand throws and pepperball exhibitions.

"Nature Boy" is billed as "Goose Tatum's Equal" and Syd Pollack, owner of the clowns, says the 20-year-old Williams is funnier than Tatum at his first base post. KING TUT IS WELL-KNOWN HERE and is the favorite of fans who have followed the Clowns in the 25 years they have been America's top-drawing Negro baseball team.

Prince Jo Henry, the third baseman, is another funmaker whose crazy antics keeps the fans rolling in the aisles.

All the evening isn't spent laughing, however, as the teams get down to serious baseball in a hurry, the Yankees playing it straight all the way and the Clowns playing and clowning.

Last time here the Clowns won 6-4 in a tight game.

WHO SAYS WILLIE'S OUT?: The umpire said Willie Mays, New York Giant center fielder was out on the tag by Brooklyn's Roy Campanella. Many persons in the park at the time said he wasn't. What do you say?

"Newk" Errors, Gives Roberts Second Game

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies did it again Friday of last week. He beat Brooklyn's great Don Newcombe and became the first pitcher in the majors to register 20 wins this season, the sixth straight campaign he has won that number.

Roberts beat Newk a week earlier and appeared determined not to permit the Doger hurler to get past his 15th win. Newk has won that many and lost four.

AND IT LOOKED LIKE DESTINY taking a hand too as it was Newk's own error in the bottom of the ninth that allowed the tying run to score and left men on first and third. Willie Jones then hit a single and knocked the Dodger Ace to his third straight defeat.

Newcombe had limited the Phillies to two hits and shut them out through the eighth inning retiring 15 men in order. He went into the final frame with a 2-1 lead.

Roberts, meanwhile, was tagged for a base hit in every inning until the sixth—only one of two frames in which he leveled the Dodgers in order.

Newk finally gave up eight hits against seven by Roberts.

"No Experience, No Nothin'," Coach Alonzo Watford Laments

By JIM CUMMINGS

The more basketball at Attucks high school prospers, the more the other sports seem to suffer—especially football.

This was apparent this week as we journeyed to the so-called football field back of the sprawling Westside school and watched the candidates for the 1955 edition of gridiron-Tigers go through their practice paces.

There were only about 25 padded boys responding to the commands barked by Head Coach Alonzo J. Watford, and his two assistants, Graham Martin and Tom Sleet.

Watford, who in most years past would have been laughed at if he said, "We'll probably end in the cellar," had to be taken seriously this time by a realist. At least, this time the good-natured coach couldn't be laughed at.

ONLY TWO OF THE EIGHT RETURNING LETTERMEN saw extensive action during the last campaign and can be considered as "experienced boys," Watford stated.

Donald Crabtree, deceptive quarterback who is good at throwing the ball and is a veteran safetyman, and Tackle Robert Shane, six-foot, 210-pounder who is great both offensively and defensively, are the boys around whom the team is being built.

Henry Robertson, who played regular at tackle last year, was depended on this trip for heavy duty. However, he suffered a chipped bone in the shoulder last week and doctors say he will be out about six weeks.

Glen Howard and Warren Offutt, halfbacks.

Offutt, Howard, Telleferre, Motley and Halfback Clarence Hawkins won letters last season.

Charley Smith, Richard Stewart and Hawkins are outstanding basketball prospects. Billy Dord, 265 pounds, is out for a tackle.

Watford said that because of the widespread lack of experience in the squad he doesn't expect a winning season.

"WE JUST CAN'T GET THE BOYS ANYMORE," he lamented. "They all want to limit their tletic participation to gloryball (basketball)," he said.

"There are some basketball players, who without half trying, can play better football than anyone we have," Watford asserted.

Billy Brown, big agile guard on the state championship net team, is said to be a potentially-great end, and Richard Swanigan, high-scoring reserve last year, is respected as a topflight halfback. Neither, however, has expressed any intention of playing football.

ATTUCKS HAS HAD ONLY ONE WINNING FOOTBALL TEAM since the school's basketball's fortunes spiraled upwards. This was the 1953 aggregation which won six and lost two, both by 7-6 scores to Howe and Shortridge.

Pointing up his statement that all the boys wanted to play "gloryball," Watford noted that only 40 boys showed up for football practice which started August 15 and compared it with the 120 boys who answered last call for basketball.

RECOGNIZING THE STEADY DECLINE OF TIGER FOOTBALL, Watford says he has set out to "weaken" the schedule and strengthen it as he is able to strengthen the football team.

The Tigers open the season in the Football Jamboree to be held at Tech Wednesday night, Sept. 7. The regular schedule is as follows:

Sept. 9 at Westfield
Sept. 16 Howe at CYO Field
Sept. 22 Cathedral at CYO
Sept. 30 Harry E. Wood School at Shortridge
Oct. 7 at Frankfort
Oct. 21 Sacred Heart at CYO
Nov. 4 at Manual

KILLING TWO PIRATES: Wayne Terwillinger spins in mid-air and flips to first base after putting grounded O'Brien, Pittsburgh, out. Hank Thompson, the giants' utility infielder (center), started the double play.

THE YANKEES HAVE SUCH MAJOR LEAGUE PROSPECTS as heavy-hitting right fielder Price West, versatile utility man, Charlie McCoy, infielder Orlando Lugo, a sensational glove man who swings a mighty bat, and pitcher Jim Proctor and Lionel Evelyn.

Cal Jones, Eddie Vincent "Rarin' To Go" at Iowa

IOWA CITY, IA. Calvin Jones, hard charging guard, and Eddie Vincent, swift and elusive halfback, are back at the University of Iowa and are both rarin' to get the 1955 football season underway.

Jones, who played all the 1954 season with a broken wrist, says his injury is healing and that he's "all set for September."

TEAM CAPTAIN, THE STEUBENVILLE, O., ATHLETE BROKE HIS WRIST before the start of last season. Despite the repeated urging by coaches and doctors to "lay off for a while," Jones insisted that tape and wrist splints be used so he could continue to play.

The husky 223-pounder is agile for his weight and is equally efficient on offense and defense. He is a top blocker in the line and down field and his aggressive defensive charges have made him a constant menace.

Pre-Holiday Dance at Club Plantation Sun., Sept. 4

IN MEMORIAM... We pause in humble salute to George Pheldon Stewart, founder of The Recorder and outstanding journalist, who departed this life on August 28, 1924... Born of humble surroundings in Vincennes, Ind., he came to Indianapolis and became the founder of the 4th oldest Negro newspaper of continuous publication in the U.S.A. He was constant in his convictions or principals and was loyal to his friends. He envisioned an institution of practical and constructive service in all areas of human interest or endeavor. We salute him again on his vision and the heritage he left to all those following in his footsteps... For the past 31 years his son, daughters, grandsons and widow have upheld the noblest traditions of the "fourth estate" in keeping with inspirations of the founder.

A SALUTE... Beyond a doubt Wesley O. Jackson, is the greatest single promoter in the field today. He is really a top promoter and is healed for greater things in the promotion field. The fella will be to sports what Maurice Dancer was to entertainment. Dancer gave us Ethel Waters, Clarence Muse, Evelyn Thompson and other great stars. Watch this boy, Jackson, he is destined to go places. And, we don't mean maybe.

WATCH THIS FELLA... Keep your eyes on James Bush, Jr., head man at the Sunset Cafe... The fella is really on the ball and should go places "ere the cock crows twice." If you dig what we mean.

AIR-CONDITIONED CHURCHES... Several months ago we reproduced a piece here concerning air-conditioning our churches for the relaxing comfort of members and friends of the church... The idea pops up again during this sweltering weather. We believe if there's any place that should be comfortable during the summer months it should be the church. Why should people find more comfort in air-conditioned theaters and taverns than they find in the house of worship... We notice that elaborate plans have been made to build a fine church in the city, but nothing was said about air-conditioning the edifice... Now why should people suffer the intense heat for several hours with nothing more than an undertaker's fan to ward off 90-degree temperatures? If our churches can afford to buy fine clothes, comfortable homes, high-powered autos and long vacations for the pastor, it seems reasonable enough that they could afford to install coolin' systems that would attract more people to the church doin' the torrid summer months. What do you think?

THE SAME APPLIES TO FUNERAL HOMES... Why should people be forced to sit in a mortuary for 2 to 3 hours and listen to a long, drawn-out service during the hottest part of the day and almost smother from the heat... It seems to me at the prices they charge for handling the remains of a good and faithful brother or sister, they could at least afford to make their establishments more comfortable for the bereaved family and friends of the deceased... We know there are lots of people who can stand 100-degree heat, but how about those who can't? Should they be made to suffer? If our mortuaries can't afford to install coolin' systems, then why not arrange funerals at an earlier hour during the summer months. We noticed a funeral cortege passing along the Avenue Friday morning before 10 a.m. It was on its way to the cemetery. Why can't all funerals be held at this early hour? This at least is something to think about. Remember, the men folks are expected to wear their coats, collar and tie. Imagine the suffering if you will! Let's serve the Lord in comfort and bury the dead in comfort, and not travel to the corner tavern or theater to cool off. 'Twould be a bless' in disguise. Amen!!

AN UNREASONABLE TICKET... We saw with our own eyes a young colored officer give a motorist a ticket last Thursday nite along the main stem, when the fella had just backed up a restricted zone, lights still on, waiting for two friends who had hailed him from across the street. The officer dashed across the street and began writing, and the poor fella just sat there wondering where he was goin' to get the moola to pay for this minor violation, if you can call it that, while his two friends stood in silence alongside of the car. Finishing his 'work' the officer dashed off down the street, as if he had captured a rapist. At the same time (about 9:40 p.m.) two fellas were standing on the corner about 50 feet away soliciting white men for colored girls. In fact these fellas have been workin' the cor. (Michigan and Indiana) since Decoration Day, and sometimes until the wee hours of morn. They openly and brazenly whistle at oafs as they stop for the red light or while the car is moving... But they went un-noticed while this poor fella with an old model car must shell out his moola for an unfair rap... We don't believe a white officer would have given the guy a ticket. He would have told him he was parked in a restricted zone, since he was still at the wheel and the car was in motion.

THIS COLUMN HAS FOUGHT the fite for years for more Negro patrolmen, for colored officers to ride in 27 many, many years ago, we have also led the fite for sergeants, lieutenants and now a captain. Our colleague, now working for another sheet, informed Norval Bennett of his appointment as uniform sergeant many years ago. The fella worked hard for Bennett's appointment. And it was the first since our arrival here.

Since that time we have kept up the fite, in spite of the fact we were asked to 'cool' down on the issue... Since we started the fite we have seen men upgraded to lieutenant, one is a lieutenant. We asked the question in this column: "Why can't Negro detectives be upgraded, why do they have to remain a sergeant always? Regardless who got the credit for the appoints, the fact is, they were made. And they probably would never have been made if this newspaper and the writer hadn't started people to thinking. Now we are demanding a full-fledged lieutenant in uniform and a uniform captain. Whether we get it or not depends on you, the readers of this newspaper.

ALL OF THE ABOVE LEADS US to wonder whether or not we have made the right fite. It doesn't mean anything to us one way or the other. We were practically born in the newspaper and expect to stay in it for some years to come. But when you see so many wrong things happening to innocent persons, it makes you wonder whether you have fought a good fite... We have had certain young rookies threaten us and others on this newspaper with arrest at times, when if we hadn't continued the fite they would never have been appointed to the force in the first place. Because certain persons downtown thought there were enough Negroes on the force already, and especially in the detective division. We started a fite for a narcotics squad, you have one; we agitated for more detectives, you have them; we fought for more policemen, you got them, too. So, in spite of these brash fellas, who aren't doing the department any good, we are

While here Miss Waters acted as guest columnist for Irving Lebowitz, who conducts a daily column captioned "Hoosier-Headlines" in the Indianapolis Times.

DROPPED INTO TONY'S SUPPER CLUB and enjoyed a pleasant chat with Tony, the owner; Leo Lesser Jr., master of ceremonies; Leroy Simmons, asst. mgr., and Emmett, the headwaiter. Tony explained to us that his prices were no higher than any spot offering high-class entertainment. That he is forced to charge 50 cents at the door on Friday and Saturday in order to keep out undesirables. The fella has a fine place for fine people open to all mannerable people regardless of race, creed or color. Now that we are getting the things we have been fitting for, it seems we aren't ready to accept them. There'll be more integrated spots before long, and you can mark that down on your calendar. It won't be long before we have integrated barber shops, integrated churches, integrated mortuaries, and in fact, integrated everything. "White teachers will invade Attucks for the first time next month. That is what you said you want. So, why the BEEF. The thing to do is to make our places equal to that of the other fella. Tony started the ball to rollin' among the bistros, and he is taking a lickin' for it, but as he told us he loves it. More than 15 person have been released at the spot because of raising prices, which was unknown to the management. Ask the person with the beef on Tony's whether or not he consulted the menu (an' it's real large) before he or she paid the bill. It is very easy for a waitress or waiter to hike your bill 20 or 30 cents, and leave you under the impression that you have been taken for a ride by the management. We have had that happen to us many times, but being 'hep' to this sort of carryings-on, we refused to submit to the hype. Always take your gripes to the management instead of to the fella in the street. You'll be surprised to note the difference in the waiter's price and that on the menu. If you want the finer things in life, you must pay for it!

HERE'S HOPING MANAGER AL HENDRICKS of the Indiana Theater brings us the Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore heavyweight championship fite next month. The owners of after-hour spots seem to forget that a little charity spread around at Christmas-time to the poor amongst us will go a long ways towards improving their public relations. Latch on, fellas?

Nat "King" Cole in State Fair Coliseum Shows

Will Make 4-Day Appearance

WILLIS (HAMMOND ORGAN) DYER and his combo will play a 'Battle of Music' against Dud Storms and his All-Stars Sunday, Sept. 4, at Club Plantation. Hours are from 8 till 2 a. m. Debbie Andrews is the vocalist.

The irrepresible Nat "King" Cole, who has carved an enviable niche in most every phase of the entertainment world, will make a four-day appearance at this year's Indiana State Fair.

Nat will be featured in four lavish Coliseum productions which will also spotlight the versatile vocal stylings of Frankie Laine and Tennessee Ernie Ford, and the musical backing of Russ Morgan and his orchestra. He will share the spotlight in evening performances Thursday and Friday, Sept. 1 and 2, with Laine, and in an afternoon program Sunday with Tennessee Ernie.

This year's Fair opens Wednesday, August 31, and continues through Friday, September 9. Nat Cole launched his musical career as a pianist; it was much later that his distinctive vocal renditions caught the fancy of popular music lovers. Born in Montgomery, Alabama, in 1919, Nat and his family moved to Chicago four years later. In the Windy City his father became a local pastor, his mother the church choir director. In high school Nat played piano in his brother's band, and later joined Noble Sissle. The next step was to form his own quartet, which later took final form as the famed Nat "King" Cole Trio. The rest is history.

Tickets for the Coliseum show are available at the State Fair Ticket office and Richman Brothers, 22 E. Washington St., Indianapolis. Prices range from $1.80 to $3.00, tax included.

Lovely and talented Bonnie Ann Shaw, a mainstay with Ted Weems Orchestra, will be a feature of "Stars Over Indiana," sparkling Grandstand revue to be seen at this year's Indiana State Fair. The revue will feature nightly performance September 3 through 9, and will highlight such stars as the Crew Cuts, Hubert Castle, Uncle Willie, and cycling Theron Troupe. This year's Indiana State Fair opens a 10-day stand Wednesday (August 31).

LADIES OF THE COURT: These attractive coeds at A&T College drew warm applause for their parts as "Ladies of the Court" in a recent production of "Hamlet," produced by the Richard B. Harrison Players at

MUSICAL UPBEAT

By BOB WOMACK

AT THIS WRITTING Buddy Parker and his combo are the house-band at Tony's Supper Club located on North Meridian Street. As you know, this unit was formerly Specks Maynards' crew who, at one time, were featured at the Ferguson Hotel Lounge during the first part of the summer. However, I hear that the boys are jumpin' featuring Debbie Andrews on the vocals. . . . The old saying goes—among the entertainment world, Naptown is the graveyard of many musical folk. In the past, it has been proven as such, meaning—many of our local stars have gone to the top of the heap and fallen down the ladder of success due to many reasons including big-headism, know it all, too much night life, etc. . . . Maybe someday these entertainers involved will wake up and see the light. . . . Word has just reached me that our old friend Ernest Wharton, local tenor sax star is now waiting a while at one of Detroit's Nite Clubs, the last we heard, he was living near Chicago. . . . We would like to hear from him.

CLYDE PERKINS, bandleader from Champaign, Ill., now on vacation here, has advised us that his Sextet is available for gigs. Clyde, is a sensational drummer, having worked with some of the top-flight units over the country. You can contact the drummerman thru this column or by calling Me. 5-9704 in the evenings. . . . Many of the local crews are now on vacations until Labor Day. After that, the cats will start getting ready for the Fall season. I see, many gigs for all, including new locations in and out of the city.

INTERNATIONAL INCIDENT:—Photos of Johnnie Ray, singer with the sob in his throat, being mobbed by enthusiastic Australian fans while on a tour of that country were printed in papers across the nation recently. Following this incident one of Australia's most influential Catholic prelates, 80-year-old Archbishop James V. Duhig of Brisbane, spoke out to Australian papers. "It is most disturbing," he said, "to find that American crooners are coming here and being received almost hysterically. Young girls in the thousands are rushing to meet them."

A few weeks later photos of a distraught Johnnie Ray appeared again after he had been set upon by excited teenagers. Sidney police had to help him get aboard his plane for the U. S. "Australia," the Bishop had said, "is at a critical stage of development, and should keep out anything deleterious to its youth. Other singers to have toured down under lately to similar response, are Frank Sinatra, Nat "King" Cole, and Frankie Laine.

TRUMPETER'S TALE: . . . A new book just off the press is the story of young Louis Armstrong, written to have special appeal to teenagers. The biography tells of "Satchmo's" early life in a New Orleans slum, how he took up trumpet in a colored wail's home, how he became one of the giants in the growth of jazz.

The book is not a technical treatise on music or jazz, but a warm and sympathetic chronicle of one of its most famous pioneers. The author, Jeanette Eaton, is well known for her biographies for young people, and she succeeds in presenting the life of the great trumpeter in a simple and easily understandable manner.

GARNER SUBS: Jazz is coming of age. And with age gaining prestige. Substituting for the Laclede Little Symphony in St. Louis, Mo., recently, was Erroll Garner, jazz piano artist. It was the first time that a great jazz star had ever appeared on that program sponsored by the Missouri Utilities over KSD-TV.

SWITCH: . . . An interesting situation has arisen in connection with Les Baxter's waxing of "Medic," the theme from the high rated TV show. Victor Young, who composed the melody, and also publishes it, has been helping promote the Baxter record via disk jockey appearances, etc. Ordinarily this would not be strange, except that Young also has a disk of the tune on Decca, so he finds himself in the position of plugging another artist's record of a song he has recorded himself.

MAKING A RECORD WITH ROY HAMILTON:—"All right, everybody, take five," (minutes) the producer of the recording session calls from the control booth. The musicians disburse with weary readiness, and Hamilton walks to the control booth to spend five minutes break listening to one of the takes. The fans in the studio audience move impatiently in their chairs, trying not to lose sight of Roy. From the time they enter the studio until they regretfully leave, the audience remains keyed to a very special level of enthusiasm. And the ordinary, work-a-day atmosphere charged with excitement and colored with the temper of the songs in rehearsal.

For Hamilton has the rare ability to establish contact with his audience no matter where he's singing, no matter what mood he wishes to evoke. He breaks the contact constantly when he records, interrupting himself to work over a line, to question the conductor about the arrangement, about tempo or tone or phrasing. He breaks the contact when he stops to clown around, to say something in his strange, indistinct diction so different from the diction of his performances. But even if he draws his spellbound audience up short 27 times in one song, abruptly coming down to earth to correct himself or the orchestra, he can re-establish whatever mood he wishes the instant he begins to sing again.

From around 8:00 p. m. to beyond 12:00 in the morning his recording sessions usually continue. The producer's voice through the mike in the control booth becomes thick from too many cigarettes and many swallowed yawns. After many

"Part of the Time"

Robeson vs. Randolph

By THE ANP

(This week a court ruled that the State Department was right in refusing a passport to Paul Robeson. Bitter conflict between the controversial singer and A. Phillip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, is revealed in this second of two excerpts from Murray Kempton's book, "Part of Our Time."—Ed.)

These things went on, very slow, but very deep. It was as though Paul Robeson did not know that they were happening, because he was neither a white man nor a Negro and did not see them.

He had become by now almost an open Communist, no longer suitable for exploitation by patriotic concert managers, a subject of pain and blame to his lost friends from the great world who knew that he had failed them, but did not often think, as men must, that somehow they had failed him, too.

PAUL ROBESON, of course, did not know the Negro. He could not have been expected to; he had gone far away and he had taken a return road along which very few American Negroes traveled.

He had, in fact, almost ceased to be an American Negro at all. In the winter of 1949, speaking from Paris, a measure of the distance between him and them, he promised that the fifteen million Negroes of the United States would never fight against the Soviet Union.

The mind of the Negro remains so subterranean to white eyes that the American newspapers suffered a tremor at Robeson's threat, because it is their custom to think of the Negro as unsatisfied, which he is, and as disaffected, which he is not.

Philip Randolph, who had articulated all the rumblings in all the Harlems of America, answered Robeson again and again:

"On every battlefield, from the war of 1776, Negroes have proudly and gallantly fought and died to defend and protect the flag and honor of our country. This is not a white man's country.

"It is the country of the people who helped to take it, worked to make it, and fought to save it. The United States is our home. Our children are here. We have no other country. We have no other home.

"If there are wrongs in America, Negroes as Americans must help work and fight to correct them. If there are problems of race and color are hard in the United States, so be it; let us not lose heart and run away from them, but gird to solve them."

PHILIP RANDOLPH, for whom it has always been hard and who had become disaffected and revolutionary was opening his mouth for Thomas Patterson and all the other Pullman porters who had never had room to invite an illusion inside and who had begun to take with their hands a portion of what had come so early and with such delusive ease to Paul Robeson.

Robeson had traveled a long way to find that his world was surrounded by spikes and bricks. The Pullman porters had known those spikes from the first.

Their lives had been a process of beating at a succession of walls with their bare hands and, as each wall went, of rallying their strength to assault the next one. The highest walls were still before them. But they had left too much of themselves in the wreckage behind them not to understand that the ground which you have taken yourself is your own particular ground and especially to be cherished and defended.

THAT LESSON seemed to them so fundamental as to be an assumption. They did not think of what they had done as some alternative to the Communists, because for them the Communists did not really exist. If some of them wondered why Randolph felt compelled to reply to Robeson so often, it was only because Robeson seemed so far from where they lived.

There must be a great portion of every Negro which no one who is not a Negro can ever understand or reach.

The white man of good will sits at night and argues with some passion that the Negro must be treated as an equal and arises the next morning to call a cleaning woman 20 years his senior by her first name and be called mister in turn, and never think that this pattern of the ages has anything to do with what he was saying the night before.

He will talk on and on about what the white should do for the Negro and be all the time unaware of what the Negro has done for himself. He will use a word like tolerance and never reflect that tolerance might be at least as difficult for a Negro as for him.

BUT WHAT IS the hardest thing on earth for him to understand is that, for the Negro, he is at once omnipresent and nonexistent. His words, his advances, his tenders of friendship are only words thrown out to men who have been given very little in their lives and who have gained nothing which has not come hard to them.

And to them, the Communist was only another white man, less offensive than many, no more to be trusted than most.

His failures with the Negro were failures of tactics; they were failures of heart and love and trust, white men's failures. And so Paul Robeson wandered, an African god without votaries, an emperor without subjects. There was an absolute nothing between him and the people for whom he affected to speak.

For they were not his children, out Bessie Smith's, who had lived with them and bled with them and sung to them of that long, lonely road that they must walk all by themselves and who had promised: "You know, it's gotta en." And yet they were children

Urges Catholics 'Join The NAACP'

NEW YORK (ANP)—A Catholic archbishop here has urged all Catholics to join the NAACP as a means of bringing about racial justice.

No Catholic should be out of the fight for interracial justice, the Rev. Archibald V. McLees, pastor of the Holy Rosary Parish in Brooklyn, said in a speech before the Catholic Interracial Forum.

A life-member of the NAACP, and a vice-president of the Brooklyn NAACP branch, the priest urged Catholics to join the organization as a means of participating in the drive for equal rights and opportunities for Negro citizens.

He said Catholics should join the NAACP because "we Catholics for long years have known what bigotry means," and "the NAACP platform is one that Catholics can support wholeheartedly."

different from their mother; they endured on hope and not on resignation; they could not accept her lesson that to be born black meant to be scorned and cheated this side of the grave; their dreams of freedom were on this earth.

NEWSPAPER EDITOR says:

"I'VE LIKED THE TASTE OF EVERY LUCKY I'VE SMOKED"

FRANK L. STANLEY, editor of the Louisville Defender, has this to say about Luckies: "I liked the way my first Lucky tasted . . . and I've liked the taste of every one I've smoked since. That's why I smoke them."

"Luckies taste better than any of the rest"

says HOLLYWOOD HAT DESIGNER

MILDRED BLOUNT, famous Hollywood hat designer, has smoked Luckies about four years. "I've tried all the brands, one after the other," she says. "Honestly, Luckies taste better than any of the rest."

"I smoke Luckies
because they taste better"

says CIVIC LEADER

WILLIAM T. ANDREWS, former New York State legislator, is a Lucky smoker. "For some years now I've smoked nothing but Luckies," says Mr. Andrews. "I smoke them because they taste better to me."

Luckies taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, next time it's light-up time, light up the better-tasting cigarette, Lucky Strike.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!
